ADDRESS OF GREETINGS From the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences

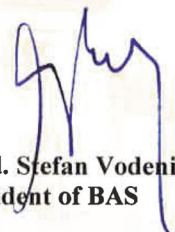

Dear Academician Vlad, ladies and gentlemen,
Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences and in my own name, I am offering congratulations on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the Romanian Academy. The Romanian Academy is recognized as one of the most authoritative scientific organizations in Europe. The Academy in Bucharest is well known in Europe and worldwide with the excellent achievements of Romanian scientists and scholars in all fields of life and environmental sciences, medical sciences, physical and engineering sciences, humanities and social sciences. I am gratified that ever since the fifties of the twentieth century our comparatively modest cooperation has proved to be viable and productive and hope that we'll continue to be active in our bilateral projects and initiatives. Our two academies are inextricably linked also by the fact that Bulgarian Academy of Sciences was established in 1869 in the city of Braila, Romania.

The Bulgarian Academy of Sciences assures the Romanian Academy of its highest esteem and consideration. The prestigious body of its fellows is seen as a pillar of Romanian science and society. This ceremony represents a unique occasion for us to express our best wishes for the further development of all valuable and important activities performed and to be performed by your most esteemed Academy. We are particularly interested in any positive trends in our relationship and the fostering of the cooperation between Bulgarian and Romanian scientists and scholars.

I wish you every success and fruitful results of your work!

Acad. Stefan Vodenicharov,
